EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

The following changes to the drawings have been approved by the examiner and are consistent with applicant's own disclosure (pg. 3, lines 2-3): The "Prior Art" label has been added to Figs. 1 and 2. In order to avoid abandonment of the application, applicant must make these above drawing changes.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 1 recites the combination of a hydrodynamic coupling device comprising a housing, a first friction element, at least a second friction element, a first channel in one of the friction surfaces with first and second channel sections, a circumferentially extending second channel in the other of the friction surfaces arranged so that in a first rotational position of the friction elements parts of the other friction surface are opposite the second channel, and so that in a second relative position of the friction elements the parts are in contact with one of the friction surfaces, wherein the second channel establishes a fluid connection between the first channel sections and second channel sections when the first friction surface contacts the second friction surface..

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Menard et al. ('273, '046), Maienschein et al. ('638), and JP ('606) disclose other hydrodynamic coupling devices having distinctive grooves.
